FRENCH THINK
GERMANS LOSE
GRIP IN WESTBERLIN, HOWEVER, ANNOUNCES
OFFENSIVE MOVEMENTS WITH BIG GAINS.

PETROGRAD DENIES BIG VICTORY

Challenges the German Claims of Recent Great Victory in Poland.

WAR TO FINISH.

Paris, Dec. 22.—Premier Vivian told the Chamber of Deputies today that France and the allies are determined to carry the war to a finish. He was loudly cheered.

WAR SUMMARY.

(Associated Press.)
It is the opinion of the French military authorities that the Germans are beginning to lose their grip on France and Belgium and that they are everywhere on the defensive. Berlin, however, speaks of gains, indicating that the Germans are holding their conquered ground.

There is a similar conflict of the statements concerning the campaign in the east. Petrograd challenges the recent accounts of a great German victory in Poland, although admitting the recent Russian retreatment was not voluntary.

MORE BRITISH TROOPS.

Great Britain expects to have another half million men in the field by spring.

EMPEROR IN WEST.

Emperor William is reported to be at the western battle front, indicating, according to London, that the situation there is more critical than in the west.

DEPUTIES MEET.

The Chamber of Deputies met in Paris today.

GERMAN ATTACKS.

Although a recent official French statement says the Germans in Belgium and France are on the defensive everywhere, today's French war office announcement speaks of German attacks at four points.

ATTACKS AT FOUR POINTS.

The German statement of today in turn described several attacks by the allies.

There is no marked change in the positions of the armies, although the French claim to have captured nearly a mile of German entrenchments.

Both Paris and Berlin refer to violent bayonet engagements in which heavy losses were inflicted.

PIERCING FIGHTING.

Berlin says there is fierce fighting in progress in Poland and that at certain points the Germans have crossed the Bzura river on their way to Warsaw.

London, Dec. 22.—Late news from Berlin and Petrograd clears, to a great extent, the situation in the eastern theater of war and enables military experts to form a reasonable estimate of the location and development of six great battles that are going on simultaneously night and day. It is obvious, first of all, that the German army of invasion in Poland has been stopped in full stride and is beating fruitlessly against the Russian defenses thirty miles west of Warsaw. The Russians are holding the right bank of Bzura river and have destroyed every German force which attempted to gain a foothold on the west bank.

Miss Bender Writes That Living Is Cheap In West

A letter from Miss Olive Bender, formerly society editor of the Telegraph, who left to tour the south and west in an auto with her uncle, and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, of Polo, announces that they arrived in Los Angeles Sunday night, Dec. 13, and are now at Long Beach.

She writes of seeing 112 different varieties of cactus, some sagebrush, greasewood, rubber plant and mesquite, and adobe houses of all descriptions; huts made from old railroad ties, brush and bushes, and inhabited by Mexicans and Indians.

Changes Are Wonderful.
Describing her visit at Jaurez, Mex. she says: "It certainly is wonderful to see the change in the country just across the river from the United States. El Paso is a fine city and up-to-date in every way, just like Chicago, while over in Jaurez it is a typical Mexican city; the Mexicans, wrapped in their noses in their gaudy blankets, and adobe stores and houses, the great fruit markets, etc. We saw where they had been fighting and examined some of the houses that had been shelled."Described Mexican Soldiers.
"We saw a lot of Mexican soldiers."Arrest Negro
At Nelson; Is
Wanted SouthMan of Many Aliases Picked Up By Sheriff Phillips Monday

A negro with many aliases, was picked up shortly after 6 o'clock on Monday evening, by Sheriff R. R. Phillips at Nelson, who is wanted to answer a charge at Baton Rouge, Louisiana. He is now confined in the county jail awaiting an officer from the southern city to take him "back to the sunny south."

A telegram was received here by Sheriff Phillips late Monday afternoon from Sheriff T. A. Womack of Baton Rouge, asking that he arrest one John Prickering, alias John Divi, alias John Thomas, a negro, who had been located at Nelson. Sheriff Phillips found his man employed at Polken's restaurant and hotel, where he and his wife had been employed for the past two months.

When confronted by the sheriff he stated that his name was John Thomas, but that he had never been at Baton Rouge. That he came from St. Louis, Mo., to Nelson, and that he had never been in any trouble anywhere. While at Nelson he has been a good worker. The couple have a little girl.

A telegram was received from Sheriff Womack in response to a telegram sent that the man was now in custody, stating that he would leave Tuesday night with requisition papers.

FIRE INSPECTOR WAS
VISITOR HE RE TODAYOFFICIAL FROM STATE OFFICE
INVESTIGATED CONDITIONS IN THIS CITY.

Deputy Fire Inspector Edw. Price, from the fire marshal's office at Springfield, arrived in this city last evening and spent today in inspecting the Christmas decorations and wiring in the business houses. At this season of the year many fires are caused by inflammable material being placed too near lights.

Inspector Price made a careful inspection of all the electric wiring in places that he visited. In several he found that insulation had worn off the wires, leaving them bare, while in others he found that connections had been made improperly. He called the attention to several wires looped over nails. In one business house he found where a wire was resting on the dome of a furnace. In all these instances the attention of the proprietors of the store or owner of the building was called.

In only one show window did he take exception to the decorations, and in this instance the danger was soon remedied by the removal of some cotton from an electric wire. In one or two basements he found a quantity of waste paper that was thrown in a pile and as soon as the attention of the proprietors was called to the same they readily agreed to have the paper taken care of.

SALE POSTPONED.
The sale of the William F. Scholl farm, located south of the Northwestern depot, which was to have been held yesterday at the premises, was postponed until some future date owing to the small number of bidders present.

They are surely a dirty, sloppy looking lot. We saw a small detachment of them coming down the street and we stopped and watched them. They just shuffled along, their guns upside down, stoop shouldered and as dirty as sin. We also saw a lot of our soldier boys along the border in the different forts, and in El Paso. They were such a contrast in their trim and neat suits, clean and athletic looking, with straight shoulders and firm step.

Have a Cottage.
Miss Bender writes that they have found a cottage, "the dearest thing you ever saw, all modern and just buried in the most beautiful flowers," in which they will reside.

She also states that the cost of living in the west is much less than here—if one knows a thing about it. Every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday morning we have an open market and you can buy anything for almost nothing. Meat is lots cheaper. We got three big boxes of the grandest strawberries for 25 cents, three great big grapefruit for a dime, six big oranges for a dime, the sweetest I ever ate, a big bunch for a nickel, dew berries; everything for almost nothing.

VOTE ON PROHIBITION
RESOLUTION MAY BE CALLED BY MIDNIGHTMOMENTOUS MEASURE IS TAKEN
UP IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES TODAY.TEN HOURS DEBATE IN SIGHT
Probably Sixty Congressmen Will Speak On Measure Before
Roll Call.(Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—The long delayed hour of the "aye" and "nay" vote on the proposition to submit to the people of the United States a constitutional amendment for national prohibition, came today in the house of representatives. With about ten hours debate in sight, during which sixty congressmen will speak, the prospect for a vote before midnight is slight.

The house assembled at 10 o'clock and took up first the rule for the consideration of the Hobson resolution to submit the proposed amendment. Drooping along the gallery and over Speaker Clark's chair was a strip of white paper 150 yards long upon which were pasted names of thousands of signers of prohibition petitions.

Representative Henry led off in the speaking. He explained he would vote for the rule but against the resolutions. Campbell of Kansas and Kelly, progressive, of Pennsylvania, supported both rule and resolution, while Lenroot of Wisconsin spoke in favor of the rule but against the resolution, saying the states had full power over the liquor question.

Hobson, author of the resolution, supported the rule and said that more than 6,000,000 people had petitioned congress for the submission of the amendment.

Adopts Rule.
This afternoon the house adopted without a roll call, the special rule for the consideration of the Hobson resolution and the debate was begun. Many voted for the passage of the special rule so to get the resolution to vote.

The passage of the resolution will require a two-thirds vote and a two-thirds vote in the senate later before it can be submitted to the states.

Underwood Objects.
Democratic Leader Underwood opposed the resolution saying: "I can not commit myself to a proposal to rob individual states of the police powers guaranteed by the constitution. This is not a temperance question, nor has it ever been. Prohibition would cost the government $225,000,000 in lost revenue."

In his appeal for the passage of his resolution Underwood said: "Liquor brings hundreds of thousands of drunkards' graves every year."

JUDGE R.H. SCOTT TO RE-ENTER PRACTICEHAS OPENED OFFICES AND WILL MAKE SPECIALTY OF PROBATE BUSINESS.

Attorney Robert H. Scott, who for the past twelve years has been the county judge of Lee county, has leased the two rear rooms in the Warner-Lofthus building on Galena avenue, and will open up an office for the practice of law. He will take on a general law business, but will make a specialty of probate matters. Attorney Scott has a wide acquaintance over the county as well as in the adjoining counties, having come in contact with many people during his many years as presiding judge. He graduated from the law department of the Dixon law school, and was admitted to the bar in 1902. He will no doubt build up a good practice, for there is no one better fitted to look after the settlement of estates than Mr. Scott.

TO KEEP AUTO FIRE TRUCK WARM

During the cold weather of the past few days the firemen at the station have discovered that the auto truck did not start as quickly as it should, due in part to the water becoming chilled in the radiator. To overcome this, Commissioner E. F. Cahill of public buildings, has decided to have a partition built along the east side of the station, large enough to accommodate the auto truck and provide radiation to heat the room. The hook and ladder and police patrol wagon will be moved over to the west side of the station.

Lester Raymond of Iowa arrived here yesterday to be at the bedside of his father, Jeremiah Raymond of North Dixon, who is very ill. A. W. Kramer spent Monday in Chicago on business.

With SixtyJoliet, Ill., Dec. 21.—"Boys, the prison is burning. Finish your dinners in a hurry and march to your cells."
Warden E. M. Allen made this announcement this evening before the 1,600 convicts at supper in the dining hall at the state penitentiary.

A cheer greeted the warden's announcement. A few minutes later the convicts marched out double file they saw "Rattan shop No. 1," the prison furniture factory, in flames. The fire was discovered as the last of the convict workmen left the shop. An hour later the building practically was destroyed, at an estimated loss of $10,000, according to the warden. The Joliet motor fire truck responded to the call from the prison and the trained convict fire squad of sixty men joined the city fire force under Chief Cal Royce. The convicts managed seven lines of hose and confined the fire to the big, barnlike stone and wood one story rattan shop.

Convicts Locked In.
As the convicts reached the cell-houses they were locked in. At the prison hospital, adjacent to the burning building, the invalid prisoners were carried to the first floor quarters ready for removal should the hospital be endangered. Dr. Harry Elgin Webster, wife murderer, of Chicago, official photographer of the prison, was a member of the fire fighting squad. One member of the squad suffered a sprained ankle, slipping on the ice. This was said by the warden to be the only accident.BOARD OF GRAND
EXAMINERS HEREWILL BE IN CHARGE OF MASON-IC SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION IN DIXON.

During the year 1915 there will be several state and district schools of instruction for Masons held throughout the state and Dixon has been fortunate in being selected as one of the five cities in which the state school will be held. They will open on the second Tuesday in January and continue every other week until five have been held.

The cities selected to hold the state schools and the dates of each are as follows: Cairo, Jan. 12, 13 and 14; Dixon, Jan. 26, 27 and 28; Centralia, Feb. 9, 10 and 11; Monmouth, Feb. 23, 24 and 25; Champaign, March 9, 10 and 11. These state schools will be conducted by the entire board of Grand Examiners, consisting of Right Worshipful Brethren A. E. Wood, chairman, Gibson City; C. L. Gregory, Aledo; W. P. Jones, Toulon; Emmert Howard, Quincy; and Maxwell Levy, Chicago. Degrees will be conferred upon actual candidates at all schools.

In other cities, we are told, the municipal government takes the trouble to provide a safe place for ice skating. They scrape the snow from the ice and let the lovers of that ideal sport have all the fun they want.
What's the matter with putting a horse and snow-plow to work on the river, the north side is said to be the safest, and clearing off a large space on the ice? The city could provide many weeks of healthy sport for young and old. Such action would also furnish work for some of the unemployed men.WEATHER OBSERVATIONS.

The special committee of city commissioners which was appointed at the meeting of the city council Monday to determine a possible way whereby the idle men of the city can be placed to work on some of the municipal improvements, at a meeting this morning decided to start work on repairs on the Galena avenue sewer, which has a bad defect, and which improvement has been contemplated for some time.

Ice Harvest Starts.
It is not known how many men will be needed for the work, but it is believed that the number to be given work together with the requirements for the annual ice harvest, will take care of practically all of the idle men of the city.

Apropos the council meeting tomorrow morning the committee of the unemployed has issued the following call:

Call to Unemployed.
All of the unemployed that want work should meet at the City Hall at 10 o'clock tomorrow, Dec. 23rd. As the committee appointed by the City Council will recommend to the adjourned meeting of the council to meet tomorrow morning that the city put as many men as possible to work tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. So if you want a job be at the city hall at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. C. Brooks, Frank Stevens, John Gup-till, Executive Committee of Unemployed.CLAIMS COAL WAS

COAL WAS PARTLY SLACK AND DIRT.

The jury in the case of John and Clarence Lenox vs. Alexander Clubb and C. F. Hughes were out but about twenty minutes Monday afternoon deliberating on a verdict and finding issues for the plaintiffs and assessing them damages to the amount of $227.

The plaintiffs had done teaming work for the defendants on the paving jobs they had secured in this city. When they came to a settlement there was a dispute over the amount, the plaintiffs claiming $314 due and the Rockford contractors had offered but $147 in settlement. The suit was brought to adjust a settlement.

This morning the case of the Taylor Coal Co. of Chicago vs. John M. Duffy was taken up. When Mr. Duffy conducted a coal yard in the city he purchased four cars of lump coal of the company and he alleges that while on the top of the cars were the lumps of coal, toward the bottom was much slack or forkings and he refused to pay the price as billed to him. The company brought suit for the full amount of their claim. The case went to the jury shortly after 12 o'clock and they were taken out for dinner before taking a ballot.

OF F. & M. DISEASE.

Morrison, Dec. 22.—Owing to the establishing of a quarantine at the home of Alderman George Humphrey just at the east limits of the city, as the result of the appearance of hoof and mouth disease in his herd, the invitations issued for the marriage of Miss Zada Rosina Humphrey and John Jacob Bruins, on Wednesday, Dec. 30, have been recalled, and instead of the fine wedding planned the young people will be married quietly.

The herd on Mr. Humphrey's farm was discovered to be infected on Saturday and quarantine was immediately established. Friday evening invitations had been sent through the mail to the wedding feast.

Sam Gossard, general manager of the Gossard Co., spent yesterday in this city on business.
Clem Miller of Mendota called on Dixon friends yesterday.

Petition For New
Through TrainEfforts Now Being Made To
Have Time of One
Shortened

Renewed efforts to secure a fast train on the Illinois Central railroad between Freeport and Springfield are being made. The latest request does not ask for an additional train but for a train which will not stop at every station, and it has been suggested that one of the local trains now in service be turned into a fast train. Practically every city, town and village on the line between the above named cities is interested in the matter and all are using their efforts upon the officials of the company.

The former request for the placing of an additional train into service was refused by the company. In their reply to the request they stated that the Illinois Central was the only road in the state of Illinois which had not started talking off trains for retrenchment purposes, while practically every road in the state had taken off one or more trains, men thus being out of work and suffering hardships. The answer also stated that the road needed millions of dollars monthly to operate the road and that the addition of another train to the service south from Freeport would cost a big sum which never would be made up for by the new business gained if the train were put on.

The people interested have now made the request that one of the two local trains leaving either end of the line be turned into a fast train and make only a few stops between Freeport and Springfield. It has been stated that the present train between Freeport and Clinton make a stop on an average of a fraction over four miles enroute, the stations and other stops making it necessary for that number of stops. This of course increases the running time.

DIXON ILLINI CLUB
PLANS GOOD WORKWILL SEND UNIVERSITY PAPER AND YEAR BOOK TO THE DIXON SCHOOLS.

About fifteen of the students from Dixon, who are attending the University of Illinois, have organized a club named "The Dixon Illini Club." The formation of this club is for the purpose of promoting the social feeling among its members as well as to bring the high school students of Dixon in closer touch with the University of Illinois. To familiarize them with the courses of study open to them at the university and also with outside activities such as athletics, musical functions, homecoming, interscholastic etc.

In doing this the club intends to subscribe to the Daily Illini, the university newspaper, for both the north and south side high schools of Dixon, as well as to present to them both "The Illio," the university year book. Each year a Dixon Illini club dance will be given in Dixon during the holidays. The first of these is to be given at Rosbrook hall on December 31, 1914. The hall will be appropriately decorated with Illinois colors, orange and blue. Slothower's orchestra of seven pieces will furnish the music and a "regular good time" is assured everyone who attends. About two hundred and fifty invitations have been issued in this city and nearby towns.

Plagues Of Pupils And Way To Combat Them Given

Along with the "seven wonders of the world," the "seven ages of man" and the famous "seven sisters," the seven diseases which school children are most subject to have now been listed by educators. The plagues and ways of combatting them are as follows:

Mumps—The child who has the mumps should stay out of school for two weeks. Children at the home who have not had mumps and who have been exposed, should stay out of school for ten days.

Scarlet fever—The child affected and all others exposed must stay out of school, the child affected for six weeks or until all scaling has ceased. The child exposed until quarantine is lifted.

Diphtheria—Children affected by the disease must stay out until a culture made from the throat shows that no germs are present. All children exposed must stay out of school eight days.

Chicken Pox—Only the child who has the disease and the children from the home who have not had it must stay out. The child with the disease culture.

The above figures represent the amounts that have been donated this year by individual Good Fellows in Dixon for the Christmas fund. This does not include the hundreds who have purchased tickets for the benefit show or dance nor does it include the many merchants who bought generously of the dance tickets that were left in their stores. Several merchants donated $5 when the collector came around checking up the ticket sales, and these donations were all credited under the head of dance tickets sold. The above figures are simply those of money that has been turned into the Good Fellow department of the Telegraph. There are some further items of cash that are expected in from persons who have subscribed but have not turned in their money.

Many Families.
Never in the history of Good Fellow work in Dixon has poverty been so prevalent as this winter. The Good Fellow committee has over one hundred families on its list at present that are in distress and who will have mighty slim Christmas, even with the help the Good Fellow committee will give them, for many of the families are large and there is need for expensive things, such as shoes, underwear, etc., and it is impossible for the Good Fellow committee, even with the splendid fund on hand, to do everything. We will simply attempt to spread out the funds as evenly and fairly as possible.Coal Is Needed.
One Dixon man "phoned the Telegraph the other day and said, "You can put me down for four half tons of coal, but I don't want my name in the paper in connection with it." We thanked him and have respected his wishes, although we would really like to have people know who these Good Fellows are. Anyway, we have been ordering coal from this man and he has been sending it out free. We suggest that some other coal man get busy and make a noise like a Good Fellow. Don't let one man do it all. There are a lot of empty bins in the humble homes around the outskirts of this city. Your conscience will be easier if you have kept someone from suffering.Act Quickly Now.
If you want to be a Good Fellow, this is the time. Get your money in to the Telegraph office at once, if you wish to donate or 'phone this office.

COUNTERFEITERS AT WORK IN FREEPORT

SPURIOUS FIVE-CENT PIECES MAKE APPEARANCE IN THAT CITY.

Freeport, Dec. 22.—That there are many counterfeit nickels in circulation in this city, and that they were made here is the conclusion arrived at by bankers. Of late, since early fall in fact, a number of counterfeit Buffalo nickels have been discovered in the money received in Freeport banks. The matter attracted the attention of the secret service bureau of the treasury department early in the fall and two men from Chicago were detailed here to work on the case. They were in the city several days but could not find the source of the coins. Yet this city is the only place in which the spurious coins have been found, and the bureau at Washington is firm in the belief that they were made here.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE

The Christmas tree is the largest indoor plant. If properly raised in a stout dry goods box it often attains a height of twenty feet and an age of several days.

The Christmas tree looks like a pine but it isn't. It is a fruit tree and produces the most valuable of crops. A single Christmas tree has been known to bear at one time two bushels of popcorn, a peck of apples, five pounds of candles, nine large dolls, a half dozen hobby horses and a wagon load of miscellaneous plunder. Harvesting the Christmas tree is the favorite of all children's games and paying for the seed is the principal January job.

The Christmas tree grows luxuriantly in any land which has a church bell. Millions of them bloom and ripen their crops each Christmas Eve in this country. It takes nature about ten years to bring a Christmas tree to the bearing age, but man can shake a crop off of it in fifteen minutes and chop it up for stove wood afterward in fifteen more. A whole lot of our disappearing forests have disappeared into the happy homes of the nation about Christmas time, but nobody dares to talk conservation when ten million children are shrieking for joy.

The Christmas tree will grow in any land, but the conditions have to be just right. It will flourish in a desert or a flood; on a mountain top far above the timber line or in a cellar where even the rats are underfed, but it requires a very particular atmosphere. Selfishness is very hard on the Christmas trees. They wither under it like a dandelion under a load of salt. If a husband and father is too lazy to exert himself for others now and then or a mother is too deeply immersed in the study of compound bridge to devote a few days a year to unprofitable toil for someone else also, the Christmas tree stands very little show. Hatred and malice and a lack of imagination are also very hard upon this peculiar tree. It may be tended by an expert forester and grow with phenomenal rapidity, but unless it can get into a home full of joy and generosity and painstaking thoughtfulness it simply declines to bloom. You can heap gold coins about a Christmas tree until its branches are hidden, but it will remain bare and dejected until some little child comes along and sets all the atmosphere in that house a quiver with emotions which are not found in books, bank accounts or temples of piety.

Christmas trees cost a great deal to bring to perfection and are not financially a profitable investment. We Americans blow in millions on them each year which would otherwise bring in six per cent from perfectly good mortgages. But the atmosphere of a home in which a Christmas tree has bloomed is so much better for months afterward that a soul finds it very hard to sicken there.

The Outdoor Christmas Tree.

Even in books it is hard to find a Christmas tree so perfect as one that is left still growing and decked outdoors exactly where it stands. Such a tree Louise Morgan Hill describes as having been arranged by a family in Washington for their two children, an assembly of friends, and some little orphan visitors. Mrs. Hill describes the tree, which was real enough, in her Harper story-book "Sunnyfield," telling how it was suddenly uncovered from its canvas wrappings, and how it stood forth, clad with gold, silver, and color, and with light from tiny hidden electric bulbs, dazzling against a velvety dark sky. The tree that grew in the sunny field was a hemlock, and as the little group watched that night they sang the carol Longfellow translated from the German, "O hemlock tree! O hemlock tree! How faithful are thy branches," while the round-eyed pickaninies, peering over the fence, said one to another, "Did you ever see such a thing in all your born life?"

However, we are certain that the aforementioned committee can have no objection if we tell an anxious public some of the Christmas wishes of a few prominent men as reported to us by a little bird.

RUSSIANS HOLD BACK INVADERS

right bank. A regiment of the Prussian guard was annihilated by the Russian artillery which commands the right bank of the river for eight miles south of its junction with the Vistula. After evacuating Lodz on Dec. 6, the Russians withdrew to a line of trenches, which together with artillery positions and natural obstacles form a strong defense line from west of Novo Georgievsk, twenty-five miles northwest of Warsaw, to Opoczno, twenty-five miles east of Petrokow. For two weeks the Germans have battered at the Russian line but have made no appreciable progress and are compelled to sacrifice great numbers of men including detachments of the Prussian guards their finest troops in order to hold the Russians on the defensive.

Correspondents of the Daily News and the Daily Mail assert that Russia is entraining and sending westward heavy reinforcements who will be employed for an offensive campaign when the plans of the Grand Duke Nicholas are completed.

Jubilant Premature.

It is realized by Berlin military writers that the enthusiastic celebration over decisive victories won in Poland by Von Hindenburg was premature and that the German armies have accomplished nothing more important than the maintenance of the offensive. The German war office avoids mention of the situation in East Prussia, saying that the situation in West Prussia remains unchanged and confines its report on operations in Poland to the bare statement that the Germans are continuing their attacks against the Russian positions.

From every standpoint it appears that the German jubilation was as little in accordance with the facts as was the recent celebration in Petrograd over rumors that several German corps had been trapped and cut to pieces.

The newest development of the situation in the east bodes ill for Germany. It is an offensive movement by a large Russian force which has fought its way along the lower Vistula, from a base at Plock, to and over the frontier of West Prussia. The German official statement admits that there are operations in West Prussia and it is reported from Petrograd that the Germans will have to face a determined attack made by the Russians toward Thorn. Russian forces are gathering in strength on the north bank of the Vistula and are heading for the great base point of German operation in Poland—the fortress of Thorn. The news confirmed a statement sent from Petrograd several days ago that the invaders in front of Warsaw would find themselves imperiled by a Russian army operating in their rear. The Russian force appears to be spreading over the German frontier southwestward from Mlava.

Russ Press in East Prussia.

The third movement is the Russian advance in East Prussia which seems to have taken on fresh vigor in the past week. It is reported that the Russians have been reinforced, particularly in cavalry and artillery, and are pushing the Germans slowly from positions between Gumbinnen and Insterburg and south of the Gumbinnen-Insterburg railroad. The offensive has been maintained in spite of the extreme pressure in Poland and the arrival of Austrian reinforcements in the south.

THE UNEMPLOYED IN DIXON.

There is no disputing the fact that in Dixon, as well as in every city in the nation, there are men out of work. The number here is less, fortunately, than in most places. Of those who are out of work in Dixon, there is a greater proportion of men who are not yet in destitute circumstances, because until the past few weeks, there has been work for everybody who was willing to work.

However, there is no arguing oneself out of the fact that there is a problem to be solved. These men who are willing to work and cannot find it must be cared for and they must get sustenance for their families.

The ice cutting on the river will furnish a large amount of relief from the situation as soon as it gets in full swing and the contractors who are to construct the buildings on the epileptic colony promise us that they will get to work very soon. In a few weeks there should be plenty of work for all.

In the meantime, if there is any city work that can be done in cold weather, the city commissioners will be doing a great charitable work if they will start any operations that are possible at once. If the city work is not extensive enough to employ all of the idle men, it should be divided so that every man who wishes to may get a little work—enough to keep him and his family going until something better opens up.

Next summer, and probably the summer after that, will see a great increase in the demand for labor because of the work at the state colony, for the state board of administration expects to spend about two millions of dollars on the job and local labor will be employed whenever practical, for the contractors declare they prefer to employ Dixon men first.

The majority of men out of work are industrious men. They are not men who ask for charity, but are willing to work hard for all they get. Dixon is naturally an industrious community and we have less than the average number of habitual loafers.

THE PERIOD OF SUSPENSE.

The wives of the country are so busy nowadays deciding what their husbands shall give them for Christmas that they haven't time to select anything for him but suspenders.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Over a hundred families are depending upon the Good Fellows of Dixon for a Merry Christmas. Two or three hundred dollars will not give that many people a very hilarious time, but it will help some and the poor will know that someone remembers them and that the people of Dixon are good.

HORSE VS. AUTO.

My good old trusty mare, named Myrtle, which to my cart I daily hitch, was ne'er accused of turning turtle and dumping people in the ditch. She's always prompt to do my bidding, though from a well-filled manger torn, and I have never seen her skidding because her tires were badly worn. She has a dozen daily uses, she's safe and sane and city broke; she doesn't honk like bughouse geese or fill the air with noxious smoke. Along her stately way proceeding, she calmly hits her eight-mile gait, and nothing tempts her into speeding; she always keeps her head on straight. Along the road she doesn't thunder, with road and shriek and dust and stench; as nothing breaks, I don't crawl under to fix her with a monkey wrench. I take my nephews and my nieces for pleasant drives, when day is o'er; we all come home, but not in pieces, our fragments piled upon a door. And then my good old nag adores me, and when I think I'll buy a car, my busy conscience up and scores me and gives me quite a savage jar.

A CHANCE FOR GLORY.

The high-handed methods used by the Illinois state auditor and treasurer in counting out two republican members of the legislature through a technicality show that that further revision of our election laws is needed.

The state board to canvass votes consists of three, the state secretary, auditor and treasurer. It is the duty of these men, in the theory of the law, merely to look over the ballots. The auditor and treasurer not only did that but set themselves up as an election court against the protest of the secretary of state. The governor decides with the secretary of state but is informed by the attorney-general that he is powerless.

The only thing left is to take the whole thing before the new state legislature. The democratic members of that body will have a splendid opportunity to rise above partisanship by vetoing the act of the auditor and treasurer and standing with the governor and the secretary.

Will they do it?—Aurora Beacon-News.

A LA CARNEGIE.

Mr. Carnegie declares that if one nation gives $10,000,000 for cannon, some other nation will give an equal amount. Isn't that the way he gives library funds?—Philadelphia North American.

It is not too late for donations to the Good Fellows. Send your check to the Good Fellow Club, care of the Dixon Telegraph. The money will be needed badly.

If you want to be a Good Fellow this year and have not volunteered as yet, you must "get a move on." The Good Fellow season is at its height right now.

INTERSTATE GANG OF BURGLARS BROKEN UP

Seventeen Are Taken in Big Raid at Centralia, Ill.

East St. Louis, Ill., Dec. 22.—W. F. Patterson, in charge of the Illinois Merchants and Manufacturers' Detective and Protective association with offices in East St. Louis, has returned from Centralia, Ill., where he completed an investigation of store robberies for Centralia merchants who are members of the association.

Patterson says that the arrest of seventeen Centralia men and subsequent confessions from several of them has broken up one of the best organized gangs of professional burglars that he has ever come in contact with in a small city.

Patterson has had a corps of detectives at work in Centralia two weeks. The investigation came to a head Saturday with several raids on the homes of persons under suspicion and merchandise stolen from the stores in Centralia and nearby towns valued at $25,000 were recovered.

The gang at Centralia has been broken up, according to Patterson. He will make arrests in other cities in Illinois, he said. It is his belief that the robber gangs were organized in several cities, and had agreements whereby goods could be exchanged and sold.

ISSUES WARNING TO FARMERS ON CATTLE DISEASE

WM. ECKHARD OF DE KALB
SUES CAUTION TO CATTLE OWNERS.

CITES MANY SPECIFIC CASES

In An Open Letter He Tells How One
Farmer Unwittingly Spread Disease.

William G. Eckhardt of DeKalb has issued a warning to the farmers of DeKalb county on being careful not to spread the foot and mouth disease, and he cites specific instances of how one farmer spread the disease among nine herd of cattle.

His warning to DeKalb farmers is applicable throughout the county and it is as follows:

"Farmers cannot be too careful regarding the spread of the foot and mouth disease. Near Naperville, a farmer who had foot and mouth disease on his farm went to a public sale. He changed his clothes before he left home and thought it was perfectly safe to go to the sale. However, as a result two other farmers who were present carried the disease home and infected their herds. These two men were hauling milk to a creamery. Other farmers were hauling milk home from that creamery, and on Dec. 16, seven other herds took the foot and mouth disease. The carelessness of one individual has carried the disease to nine respective farms, meaning the destruction of all the cattle and hogs on these different farms."

"Surely it is the duty of every farmer on whose farm this disease exists to stay at home, and when it becomes necessary to leave the farm to disinfect as thoroughly as do the federal and state inspectors. It is also the duty of every community to prevent hunting and trespassing on the farms. One hunter with his dogs may succeed in ruining a dozen herds of cattle."

"We urge every farmer in DeKalb county to prosecute every case of trespassing. Go to your justice of the peace, swear out a warrant, take it to your constable and have it served, and it is the duty of your state's attorney to prosecute any such case."

"It is well to remember that a man who violates laws at such times as this with the possibility of doing such damage, is not a fit citizen for DeKalb county."

MRS NELSON ASKS DIVORCE

Mrs. Hattie A. Nelson of this city through her attorney W. H. Wynn has started divorce proceedings against her husband Hans Christ Nelson. By her bill she relates that she was united in marriage with Hans Nelson in Dixon on July 8, 1898, and that they lived together until June 9, 1914, last. That seven children have been born from the union, and that the minor children be given in her custody. She charges him with habitual drunkenness.

He follows the diamond on the next boat; in some mysterious way is thrown overboard and lost. The girl and her sweetheart then try to claim the diamond and thrilling adventures follow. The other pictures are "They Never Know," a Romance drama with Raoul Walsh and Florence Crawford in the leading roles. This is the story of one of life's narrow escapes. The other picture is a Keystone comedy entitled "His Musical Career," full of laughable plights.

THE MAN WHO KNEW SANTA CLAUS BEST

VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLAS

'Twas the night before Christmas when all through the house

Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse; The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that Saint Nicholas soon would be there. The children were nestled all snug in their beds, While visions of sugarplums danced through their heads;

And Mama in her kerchief and I in my cap Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap; When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter. Away to the window I fled like a flash, Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash; The moon on the breast of the new fallen snow Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below, When what to my wondering eyes should appear But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer, With a little old driver so lively and quick I knew in a moment it must be Saint Nick. More rapid than eagles his coursers they came, And he whistled and shouted and called them by name.

"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer! and Vixen!

On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Donner and Blitzen! To the top of the porch! To the top of the wall! Now dash away! dash away! dash away, all!" As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly When they meet with an obstacle mount to the sky, So up to the housetop the coursers they flew, With the sleigh full of toys and Saint Nicholas too. And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof The prancing and pawing of each little hoof— As I drew in my head and was turning around, Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound. He was dressed all in furs from his head to his foot, And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot.

A bundle of toys he had slung on his back, And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack; His eyes—how they twinkled! His dimples, how merry!

His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry! His droll little mouth was drawn up in a bow, And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow; The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth, And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath; He had a broad face, and a little round belly That shook when he laughed like a bowlful of jelly. He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf, And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself. A wink of his eye and a twist of his head Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread. He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk, And laying his finger aside of his nose, He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle, And away they all flew like the down of a thistle; But I heard him exclaim ere he drove out of sight, "Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night."

Santa Claus.

(Since its original production The New York Sun has refrained from reprinting the article on Santa Claus which appeared several years ago, but this year the requests for its reproduction have been so numerous that we yield. Scrap books seem to be wearing out.)

Is There a Santa Claus?

We take pleasure in answering at once, and thus prominently, the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of The Sun:

"Dear Editor: I am 8 years old.

"Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'If you see it in The Sun it's so.' Please tell me the truth; is there a Santa Claus?"

"VIRGINIA O'HANLON."

"115 West 55th St."

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the scepticism of a sceptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith then, no poetry, no romance, to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not; but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You may tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God! He lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, may, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Neglect is often fatal.

Weak kidneys need prompt attention.

Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at once—

Dixon readers should find new hope in the following statement.

John Salzman, 103 Artesian Ave., Dixon, says: "I had backache a great deal and pains across my loins. My kidneys didn't act regularly and I felt miserable in every way. Finally, I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Leake Bros.' Drug store and they did good work in relieving me. I keep a supply in the house now and whenever I take them, they help me."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Salzman had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Pass Things Along

Go up to your attic, look about your house and see how many things are lying round that you can not only dispense with, but which are also really in your way, that would bring a measure of comfort and happiness to others less fortunate than yourself, writes Orison Sweet Marden in Success Magazine.

Look over your old clothing and pick out the articles that you will never wear again, but which would prove a real godsend to some poor girls out of employment or who have so many depending upon them that they cannot afford to buy necessary clothing for themselves. Do not keep those things until they become useless, thinking you may need them sometime. Let them do good now, while it is possible.

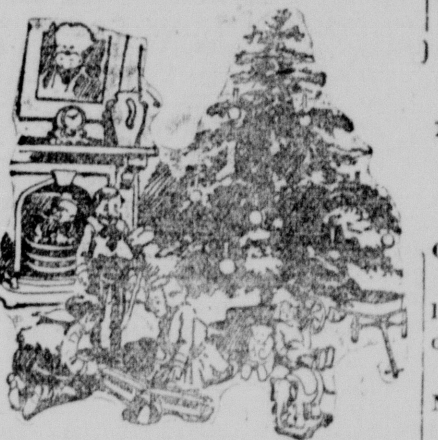

Perhaps you have a number of pretty but useless old Christmas presents which you have been keeping for years, merely out of a feeling of sentiment. Why not make some poor children who, perhaps, never had had a Christmas present, happy with those things? They made you very happy once, and they will do so again, when you know that they are making this Christmas brighter and happier for others.

Look over your books. Pick out the duplicates, or the paper covered ones that you have read, and give them away where they will be appreciated. There are probably books in your library, or lying around the house, which no one has looked into for years, or will read for years to come, which would be of inestimable value to boys and girls who are trying to educate themselves under great difficulties. Pass them on. The more you give away the more you will have and enjoy. The habit of stinginess strangles happiness; the habit of giving multiplies it.

Perhaps you have damaged or old pieces of furniture stowed away in the attic which would add greatly to the comfort and brightness of some poor home. Go over your china closet and see how many odd or chipped and discolored dishes are lying there unused which would fill an embarrassing want in many a poverty-stricken home.

When the fit of generosity comes over you as Christmas time approaches, when you feel your heart softening with human sympathy, go about the house and pick up everything you do not need and send them away on their mission of love while the impulse is upon you. Do not let selfishness and stinginess try to convince you that you would better keep them, that you may find some use for them in the future. Your impulse to do good is a divine inspiration. Beware how you smother it, or let it pass by.

JILTED YOUTH KILLS RIVAL FROM AMRUSH

Victim Dies in Arms of Girl; Slayer an "Incorrigible."

Danville, Ind., Dec. 22.—Holding the shot ridden form of her dying lover in her arms, Miss Mabel McCormick, twenty-four years old, drove half a mile over a lonely country road to a farm house, where she summoned a physician in a vain attempt to save his life.

The wounded man, Charles Cash-boler, twenty-two, died a few minutes after reaching the farm house.

Cashboler was shot while driving with Miss McCormick near here when his rival, Charles Seward, twenty-one, sprang from the side of the road, stopped the horse, and fired a charge of buck shot into Cashboler's body. Seward was arrested.

Until two months ago young Seward, who is employed on a farm near that owned by Miss McCormick's father, but who boards at McCormick's house, courted the young woman. Then Cashboler appeared and Miss McCormick is said to have dismissed Seward and devoted her attention to Cashboler.

Seward, who is an orphan, was reared at the Rose Orphans' Home at Terre Haute, and becoming incorrigible, was placed in the Indiana Boys' school at Plainfield, from which he was paroled several times, the last time being in May of this year. This was his first serious offense.

Robbers' Loot Found in Den.

Reeseville, Ill., Dec. 22.—Smoke from a camp fire betrayed a robbers' den about a mile northeast of this place to Claude Ford and Melvin Foster, who were attracted to the strange camp. A searching party later found a bag of jewelry and a new suit of clothes marked "J. C. Cardin." The robbers had disappeared. Last Thursday the railroad depots at Golconda, Hamburg and Brownfield were robbed. Some jewelry was among the loot.

Origin of Christmas Cards.

Is the originator of the first Christmas card destined to become as great a subject of controversy as the inventor of the adhesive stamp and the safety bicycle? Up to yesterday most people who took an interest in the matter would have credited either the late Sir Henry Cole or Mr. J. C. Horsley, R. A., with the production of the first card, and they would have put the date down to-day—the late Mr. W. A. Dobson, R. A., and his claim is supported with circumstantial detail in World's Work.

The birth of the Christmas card is put back two years, to 1844. Mr. Dobson was a lonely young man, who one day conceived the idea of acknowledging the kindness of a friend by sending him a picture illustrative of the festive season—a cheerful family group, surrounded by the familiar Christmas accessories.

The distant friend was delighted, showed it to other friends, and Mr. Dobson was encouraged, the following year to secure the aid of the local lithographer. Then came imitators one after another, until ten years later the business man stepped in to make money out of what was originally a work of love. But the ambitious Christmas cards of to-day are a long remove from the primitive Father Christmases and Robin Redbreasts of sixty years ago.—London Chronicle.

X-MAS TREES, Holly, and Wreaths as usual at this time of the year, as well as the rest of the X-Mas grocery line

We wish especially to call your attention to the way our oyster and cracker business is handled. Oysters are put in cans at the shucking house and are not changed until measured out to the customers which insures them in the original flavor, and sweet and fresh, as at this time of the year they arrive daily.

The Crackers (all kinds) are received in tin cans from which we retail any amount wanted. This insures at all times, that crispness that is necessary to make crackers at their best.

We sell these crackers in the original package (tin cans) also, the cans being returnable. We invite you to sample them any time and notice the freshness and crispness of them.
